

SUMMER READING AND WRITING REQUIREMENTS FOR MIDDLE SCHOOL – 2010

Rising 7th Grade Students

Rising 7th graders are required to read three books and complete assignments for each.

1. Read these two books:

The House of the Scorpion by Nancy Farmer

Animal Farm by George Orwell

Assignment:

Pick one project for each of these two novels you read. Use a different project for each novel. Feel free to use a fabulously creative idea of your own as well. During our first week back at school, you will be asked to bring in your projects and choose one to present to your class. This is a great opportunity to show us your imaginative and insightful thinking skills.

Ideas:

- Imagine your book being made into a movie. Create a movie poster depicting an important scene.
- Create a collage portraying significant story details
- Make a mobile
- Design a bookmark
- Write a book review presenting your honest interpretation and opinion of the book
- Make a story map
- Create a diorama based on a pivotal scene from the book
- Act out a scene
- Write a poem about a character or the story
- Make a Venn diagram comparing two characters (can be from different books)
- Draw a timeline of events in the book
- Create a piece of artwork based on the book
- Write a new chapter trying to imitate the author's style
- Choose a piece of music that evokes an important emotion from the book
- Choose an aspect of the book that connects directly to your personal life. Write a work of poetry or prose that explains the connection.
- Design a book jacket
- Make an ABC book

2. Choose one group choice book (listed and described on the following pages). Students will be introduced to these books at school on Wednesday, May 26 and will choose a group choice book on Friday, May 28. Early next fall, students will participate in a discussion that could include students in each grade level. While we have tried to choose books that are appropriate for 6th, 7th, and 8th graders, some of the books deal with more mature topics than others. We will have copies of all group books in the Middle School through May 28, and parents are welcome to stop by to preview any book. Students should complete one of the following three assignments during the summer, which will be used during the book discussion.

Assignment for group choice book:

- Illustrate either in a single picture or in a five frame cartoon one of your favorite scenes and be prepared to explain its significance.
- Write a 100 – 125 word plot summary of the book.
- Write five open-ended discussion questions (not factual questions or questions that seek a “yes” or “no” response). The questions should lead to discussion of ideas or themes that are presented in the book.

Group Choice Books

Read one of the following books and do one of the assignments related to the book.

Title	Author
Revolution is not a Dinner Party	Ying Chang Compestine
Among the Hidden	Margaret Peterson Haddix
The Wednesday Wars	Gary D. Schmidt
Schooled	Gordon Korman
Scat	Carl Hiassen
The Green Glass Sea	Ellen Klages
Swimming to Antarctica: Tales of a Long-Distance Swimmer	Lynne Cox
And Then There were None	Agatha Christie
Book of a Thousand Days	Shannon Hale
Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland	Lewis Carroll
The Power of One (Young Readers’ Condensed Version)	Bryce Courtenay
Dairy Queen	Catherine Gilbert Murdock
Alabama Moon	Watt Key
Airman	Eoin Colfer
Tarzan of the Apes	Edgar Rice Burroughs

GROUP CHOICE BOOK SUMMARIES

Revolution is Not a Dinner Party by Ying Chang Compestine

The author of this beautifully written novel draws on her own childhood experiences to tell the sometimes humorous and ultimately hopeful story of a young girl growing up and overcoming challenges during the Cultural Revolution in China.

Among the Hidden by Margaret Peterson Haddix

Government rules limit each family to just two children. Luke, an illegal third-born, lives in secret until he joins Jen, another “shadow child,” and together they risk everything to change their lives and society.

The Wednesday Wars by Gary D. Schmidt

This Newberry Honor novel tells the story of a seventh grade boy in 1967 and his funny and compelling adventures with his English teacher, Shakespeare, Vietnam, baseball, and the family business.

Schooled by Gordon Korman

Cap has been homeschooled by his hippie grandmother. While his grandmother recovers from an injury, he has to live with a foster family and attend the local middle school, where he quickly becomes the butt of jokes. However, he doesn’t react as expected, with interesting results.

Scat by Carl Hiassen

Scat is a very funny mystery set in Florida's Everglades. Bestselling author, Hiassen, makes the setting and middle school characters come alive.

The Green Glass Sea by Ellen Klages

This award-winning novel tells the story of 11-year old Dewey Kerrigan who goes to live with her mathematician father in New Mexico, in 1943. She arrives at a town that does not officially exist, Los Alamos, where all the adults are working on a secret project while the children go about their lives.

Swimming to Antarctica: Tales of a Long-Distance Swimmer by Lynne Cox

This classic of sports memoir tells the story of a long-distance swimmer whose perseverance and hard work help her succeed and inspire others.

And Then There were None by Agatha Christie

One of the greatest mystery novel of all time, this book is a masterpiece of murder and suspense. A mysterious host invites ten strangers to an isolated island. The guests share secrets of their pasts as, one by one, they die...

Book of a Thousand Days by Shannon Hale

A Newbery Honor author retells a classic Brothers Grimm tale, setting it in a medieval Asian land. Lady Saren and her maid Dashti are imprisoned in a tower for seven years for Saren's refusal to marry a man she despises, which begins a story full of danger, hard choices, adventure, and romance.

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll

This masterpiece blends logic and silliness in the delightful story of Alice's first visit to Wonderland where she meets the White Rabbit, the Mad Hatter, the Cheshire Cat, and the Queen of Hearts.

The Power of One by Bryce Courteney (Young Readers' Condensed Version)

The author condensed the first half of his semi-autobiographical tale to make it appropriate for younger readers. Set in South Africa at the onset of WWII, a brilliant English boy tells his coming of age story. It includes brutal cruelty at the hands of Boer bullies at boarding school, apartheid, boxing, and a single life goal, "the power of one."

Dairy Queen by Catherine Gilbert Murdock

While helping to run her family dairy farm, D.J. Schwenk struggles with school work, family, friends, romance, and football! She also learns to speak up for herself in this book full of humor, sports action, and the voice of a highly likable narrator.

Alabama Moon by Watt Key

An ALA Best Book for Young Adults tells the story of Moon Blake who lived with his survivalist father in a shelter in the Alabama forest... until his father died. He tries to follow his father's last instructions to travel to Alaska and find others like himself, encountering many challenges and setbacks.

Airman by Eoin Colfer

The bestselling author of Artemis Fowl tells a different kind of adventure-fantasy story set in Ireland in the 1890s. Conor, imprisoned in a brutal jail for a murder he didn't commit, plans an escape so he can return to the kingdom, clear his name, seek revenge, and help his best friend, Princess Isabella.

Tarzan of the Apes by Edgar Rice Burroughs

This classic of adventure tells the legend of Tarzan who is orphaned as a baby in the African jungle where he is adopted by apes who raise him until he is 18. Then white explorers invade his jungle kingdom, and Tarzan's life changes dramatically.